Happy Friday New Paltz High School Families!

During this short week things were busy, busy, busy, as a number of students took their PSATs and we all completed our first five weeks of instruction. Fridays are a great day to sit back and reflect. It is beneficial for us to take a conscious pause sometimes to avoid getting overwhelmed. This pause gives us time to shift and refocus our mental energies. Put aside for a moment all that is left to be done and concentrate on what allows you to center yourself. Perhaps the thought of a loved one, a song, or nature will bring you balance. Let us head into the weekend with clarity of mind, and heart.
